

Smart Start to Success

Service Date

Saturday

March 27, 2010

10:00am – 12:00pm

- ❖ Gain volunteer hours
- ❖ Get academic service-learning project hours
- ❖ Share your experience
- ❖ Make a difference

We are looking for WSU students to share their own experience and knowledge about getting into college with high school students.

This great volunteer opportunity will help area high school students better understand college entrance experiences, living and socializing on campus and career choice and planning.

A Service Learning Project of the

Irvin D. Reid Honors College & Matrix Human Services

On Saturday, March 27, 2010 from 10:00am to 12:00pm, we will be volunteering with Matrix Human Services and meet with a group of high school students to share experiences about getting into college, college life, deciding on a major, career planning and goals, as well as financial aid and admissions information. This project is open to ALL WSU STUDENTS!

We want YOU to participate in this special service-learning project!

Here is all you need to do:

- Respond by Monday, March 22nd and contact Katie Etheridge eg6129@wayne.edu or call (313) 577-0189 to sign-up.
- Attend one of the two training sessions offered on March 24th or March 25th from 3:00pm to 4:00pm held in 2502 UGL.
- At the training you will receive information about transportation, meeting location and an overview of the project.